TO THE STUDENTS OF DALE HIGH SCHOOL:
Dale High School faces the future with hope, courage and confidence.
In a world where the rights of men to worship God as they choose and to live as free men is being denied to an ever enlarging group, our school is the hope of the world of tomorrow. She challenges us, as free Amer scans to bear the torch of Christian faith and thirty throughout the world. She challenger fer students, her fac= ulty, and her Administrative officers to work cooperatively to build an Alma Mater worthy of all who look to her for an education.

It is our privilege and our responsibility to build our Alma Mater upon the principles of fidelity, incitegrity, mercy, Justice, and faith in God and man. So we build our High School, our Alma Mater of Tomorrow, and to the achievement of these ends we dedicate ourselves.

Sincerely.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Dear Students:

The purpose of this letter is to explain briefly the purposes and aims of your Student Council. The Student Council is an organization made up of representatives of all the classes, who aid in directing school affairs, and student activities. The Council is responsible to the stodent body and reports its actions to the student body.

The main purpose of the council is to teach students self control, self government and democratic ways of living. Students form their character through the choices they make, the actions that they take. and the respontibitities that they accept. Student government also provides valuable experience in conducting meetings, and in debate and parliamentary procedure.

Sincerely,

Goeph e. seyen

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economic was, at one time, clasified as one of the "frills" of education. Today bome maiding couries liave a definite and important place in all levels of education from primaty gradesthrough college. The purpose of homemaking in the schools is to help the individual live a more useful and iatisfying personal, family and community life. Yeart ago the curticulum of homemaking education meant only cooling and rewing. Not it Includes courses in the following areas of education:

1. Selection, preparing and serving of food.
2. Selection, care, renovation and construction of clothing.
3. Guidance and cate of children.
4. Selection and care of the home and its furnithings.
5. Home care of tfck, fncludfing fint ald.
6. Maintenance of human and family relationships.

These courses enables the individuals to broaden their purposes and provide for greater self development. Thus home economics is an active and continous process throughout school and life.

MATHEMATICS

From the beginning of our education system mathematics has been considered one of the three basic cornerstones upon which the whole superitructure is built. Our high school tries to meet the needs of all pupils for futtre endeavor. So we try to prepare some who choore to go to college or Universiry for training in the sciences and engineering. while others are advised to become proficient in those subjects that will be of moit everyday value upon leaving high school. However, in either event we hope the student will develop a habit of approach and thinking that will help him sucravesint solve life's problems.

SCIENCE

Science is the window through which all knowledge comes. It is the window through which the hidden secrets of the Creator are revealed to those who labor patiently and diligently to discover them.

Science has freed man from disease, want and many hardships. It has made the world a safer and a more desirable place in which to live. It has broughthim into a better understanding of his fellow man and has given purpose to his knowledge which has brought him into a better understanding of God and eternity.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The airms of the Social Studies Department are;
(1) To acquaint the student with accomplishments and ambitions of the preceeding generations.
(2) To present wholly and unabridged, an opportunity for the development of an overall intelligent viewpoint of the contemporary events facing the world today.
(3) To impress upon each student, that the value of good citizenstip Lies in the methods and habits developed in the process of accepting our democratic privileges and meeting our national responsibflities.

The $1952=+53$ baskethall season held many carly season disappofntments as well as midteatorhighlights. One of the hightights was the winning of the county toumey. This year's team defied the present day theory of fast-break basketball and developed into a defensive unit, often holding theif opponents to very low scores. Using a set offense the Aces did at times ute the fast-break. This year's team included several underclasmen who thould carry on very capabty in coming seasons.
