Hands . . . Working, Planning Building for the Future

These are the hands of the future . . . hands that build, plan, and work through the school year at Dale High School. They are the hands of the students who make the years at DHS more memorable; the hands that wear class rings, the hands that play ball, the hands that hold the gavel of leadership, the hands of teachers as they diligently prepare assignments for their students. These are the memories of the sorrow, work, and joy that these hands have encountered throughout the year of '68 . . . These are the memories of losing the regional, and the sorrow of the seniors who have occupied these halls for the last time. These are also the memories of the work and preparation behind the scenes for the ballgames, prom, and special projects. These are the memories of the joy of winning the sectional, the joy of receiving class rings, and the joy of work well done.

With our hands we build, plan, and work for the future. Through this work we are influenced into becoming better citizens in a better world.

Activities

Students are always glad to see summer roll around. It is a time for picnics, parties, and for just "goofing off." Students enjoy this time of year because it is a vacation and a much needed rest from school and school activities.

However, students are usually glad to see September come again so that they can renew old friendships and acquaintances. Once again they can have the joys of school life . . . the horror of the threat of a pop quiz becoming a reality, the mystery of who will be elected president of this or that, the art of the last second dash for the classroom, the suspense of waiting to see whether school will be dismissed early because of snow, the laughter and the moans floating through the halls after each class. As you can see, life at DHS is never dull.

Whether swimming, sunning, clowning, or working during vacation, DHS students will usually be found "where the action is."

A heavy snow fall in March gives students one last fling at winter.

Queen Mary Held and her court were chosen to reign during the Dale-Wood Memorial game. The entire student body chose the queen by preferential ballot. Her court consisted of eight girls who were chosen by their classmates, with each class electing two. Card motifs of hearts, clubs, and diamonds were used as the decorations for the queen's court. Queen Mary's throne was a huge spade. At the coronation, each member of the court was escorted by a member of the varsity football team.

On behalf of the court and the student body, Queen Mary Held wishes the team good luck.

Mary Walters Is "Miss Basketball"

"Winter Wonderland" was the theme of the 1967-68 Basketball Queen Crowning. Miss Mary Ellen Walters was chosen by the entire student body to reign as Queen for the annual event. Of nine senior girls selected by the senior class, four were chosen queen candidates while the other five were chosen as attendants. Miss Gloria Nord was selected as Maid of Honor. The attendants, wearing empire gowns of pastel colors and carrying a single flower, entered the gymnasium to the tune of "Winter Wonderland." Queen Mary, dressed in an all white gown, entered as the band played "Miss America." She received her crown and a kiss from senior varsity player, Bill Weber. She then bestowed best wishes to the team and Mr. Cawood.

Spirited Fans Support Aces

DHS students show their happiness over the Aces sectional win at a victory pep session.

The Aces, riding on a float, led a victory parade and snake dance through the streets of Dale.

Loyal fans showed their enthusiasm by decorating their cars for both the sectional and regional.

Mrs. Winkler, Mrs. Ingram, and Mrs. Caswell take over cheerleading duties during one of the pep sessions before the sectional.

As the regional approached, DHS school spirit was at its height. Parades, bonfires, and pep sessions were held to celebrate the sectional victory. School spirit was evident as students and local fans followed cheerleaders in cheering the Aces to show that they were behind them—win or lose.

Organizations Honor Athletes

The Dale Kiwanis Club sponsored a football and basketball athletic awards banquet. Decorations and arrangements were made by the PTA. The townspeople were invited to attend and to bring covered dishes. Ron Estes was awarded the most valuable football and basketball player award. The free throw award went to Larry Wetzel. In the spring, the Kiwanis awarded Dave Kress the most valuable track award, and Bill Weber the most valuable baseball award.

Another organization which honored the basketball varsity was the DHS Student Council. On behalf of and for the student body, the Council sponsored a sock-hop.

Variety Show Presents DHS Talent

The entire cast swings to the D.B. Rock and Frankie and Johnny.

The DHS Variety Show was the first of its kind to be presented by the student body. Working with sponsor Mr. Murphy, the junior and senior class officers presented an all school, ten-act show. Carol Heady, who played a flute solo; Randa Ferguson, who sang three songs; Rick Witte, who played a piano solo and did a Bill Cosby monologue; and Becky Ballman, who sang a solo accompanied by Mary Kaiser on piano and Carol Heady on baritone sax, ably represented the freshmen. Sophomore Jim Lynn sang folk songs and teamed with classmates Jack Tuley and David Wahl, and juniors Vicki Witte and Steve Ficker in the musical number "Bonnie and Clyde." Vicki Witte also enhanced the program with various folk songs. The seniors were represented by Jacqui Harding and Garlene Painter who did a modern dance number. The emcee was junior Tom Nord. The successful show ended with all cast members entertaining on stage.

Refreshments were graciously served in a little grass shack on the dance floor.

After diligent preparation and much hard work, the juniors presented an enchanting night in Tropical Gardens. As guests entered they were greeted and registered by sophomores who served at the prom. After a welcoming speech by Junior Class President, Gerald Emmons, Senior Class President, Dan Brumett, responded by thanking the juniors for the beautiful decorations and the lovely evening they had planned. The rest of the evening was filled with dancing, refreshments, and the giving away of door prizes donated by local merchants. Following the formal dance, students attended the movie "Girl Happy" at the Victory Theater in Huntingburg. Once again door prizes were given away. After the movie the prom was officially over.

Exceptional Students Receive Awards

Debbie Michel receives the U.S. History award.

Recipients of the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award, the American Legion Speech Award, and the DAR Award were Lou Ann Vaal, Linda Snyder, and Cathy Gaesser, respectively.

Principal Bill Tislow presented the American Legion Awards to Ron Estes and Cathy Gaesser.

Honor roll awards were presented by the Student Council to these people.

Math, Science

Academics

Mr. Wahl assigns homework to general math students.

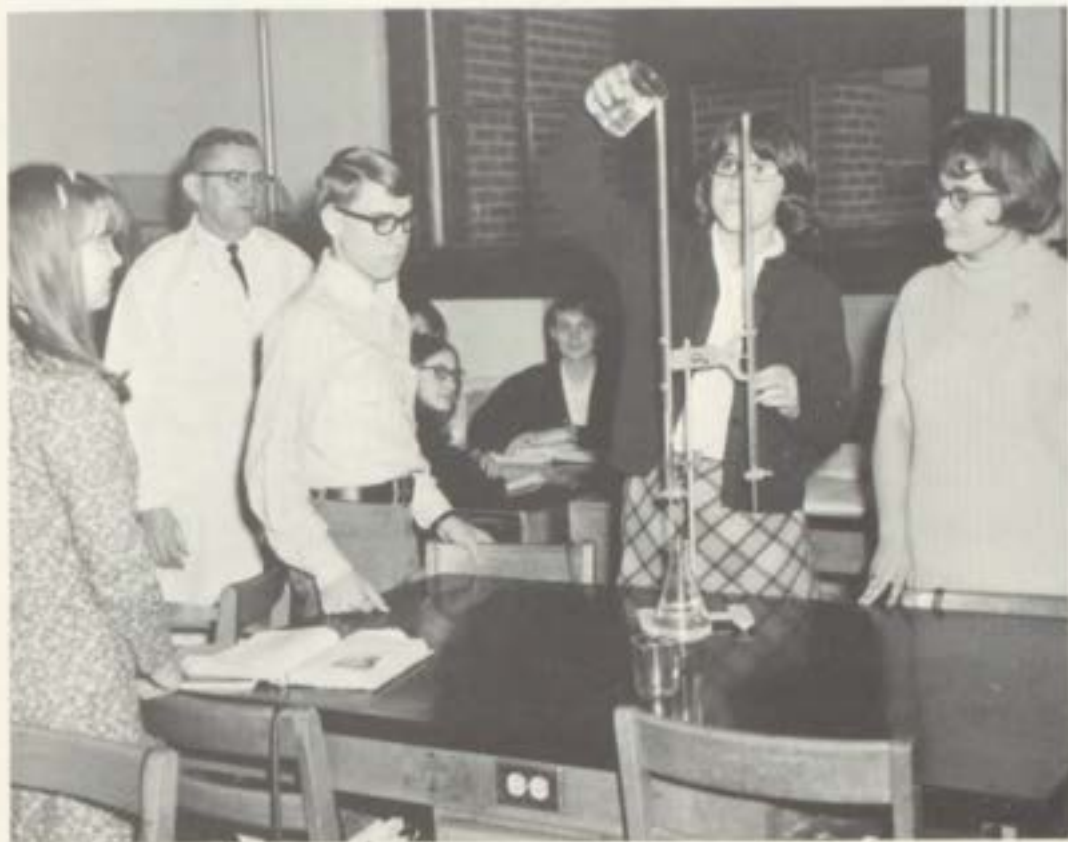

Mildred Schwindel and Danny Wilczynski demonstrate the proofs to the class.

Mr. Menke shows the advanced math class how to arrive at the correct conclusion.

Arouse Interest

Several chemistry students work on a titration experiment while Mr. Rosbottom observes them carefully.

Mr. Tichenor uses opaque projector to show biological specimens to his freshman biology class.

The math and science department at Dale High School included many subjects that are of great benefit to the students. Due to the ever-increasing trend of job opportunities in research and the increasing demand for well-trained men and women in the study of space and nuclear power, DHS offered algebra I and II, general math, geometry, advanced biology, chemistry, and physics.

French II students listen intently to acquire correct pronunciations.

Language Curriculum Adds Speech, Drama

Speech and drama were added to the language curriculum at Dale this year. Other subjects in the language department include French I and II, grammar, U.S. and English literature, rhetoric, and composition. This curriculum is based on the idea of a greater knowledge and appreciation of liberal arts. It is designed to help the student communicate better with his fellow man.

Denise Hess and Cindy Seufert write sentences in freshman English class for the students to check and discuss.

Performances by the drama class produce humor in the class and also an insight in the art of acting. Doug Harper, Cheryl Miller, Vicki Witte, Debbie Michel, Mary Tempel, Judy Hedinger, and Mary Michel display some of the costumes they wore while acting out their scenes.

American Problems Joins Social Studies Department

The social studies curriculum at Dale High School offers the student many different subjects which make him better acquainted with social conditions in the world around him. These subjects, which include world and U. S. history, geography, economics, government, American problems, sociology, psychology, and citizenship, are intended to make the student a better citizen and to give him a better outlook on life.

Cindy Martin indicates several German cities during world history class as Mr. Prusz gives pertinent facts about each city.

Sophomore, Valerie Albin, takes her turn giving a report while other geography students take notes.

American problems students examine world, national, and local problems while having lively group discussions.

Students enliven sociology class as they participate in a panel discussion.

Expanding Commercial Department Prepares Students for Business Careers

The business department at DHS offers a wide variety of courses; such as—typing, shorthand, secretarial, bookkeeping, law, salesmanship, business principles, general business, and business English. The student may choose either the clerical or secretarial lane depending on his particular field of interest.

LaDonna Spurlock, Mike Schriefer, and Alice Gogel check chart for speed and accuracy in Typing I.

Seniors compose business letters in Business English class.

Vocational Classes Help Students Develop Potential

Preparing a student to efficiently manage a home is the goal of the home economics program. This curriculum, which includes cooking, sewing, home nursing, child care, and interior decorating, is designed to enable students to fulfill their ambitions after graduation.

Students' skills and talents are cultivated in the shop and agriculture classes as students work with their hands as well as their heads. These classes help to prepare students to take their place in our highly mechanized society.

Mechanic students study the operations of a carburetor.

Students concentrate as they work in mechanical drawing class.

Physical, Mental Health - Goal at DHS

Sergeant Brown, of the Indiana State Police, gave a talk on car safety and accident prevention.

In our modern society health, physical education, and driver's education are very essential. Each contributes, in some way, to the well-being of the individual and the community. Through the study of health a student acquires a working knowledge of the mind and body, and at the same time the student is stimulated to achieve a high degree of mental and physical fitness. The physical education classes further this goal by stressing exercises which can be used to keep them fit, and teaching active sports and games which can occupy leisure time. Driver's education helps students to read road maps, to recognize and identify road signs, and to operate a vehicle safely. These three subjects contribute greatly to the health and safety of a community.

Girls' physical education classes consist of not only routine exercises but practicing with a parachute.

Boys' physical education consists of rigorous training.

Mrs. Joan Caswell, health teacher, explains which chapters to study for the next test.

Sports

To the students of Dale High School, sports are a very important part of school life. DHS is active in five sports including baseball, basketball, cross-country, football, and track. Participants and fans alike benefit from these various sports. Team members build strong bodies; spectators enjoy the events. Both learn the value of sportsmanship, school-spirit, and loyalty. Whether winning or losing, students take tremendous pride in their "Aces."

Injury-plagued Aces Complete

Ron Estes breaks a tackle for a touch down.

Dale's Gridiron Aces ended their last season of eight-man football with a 4-4 record. The mighty Aces managed to pull through the season even though at least one player was injured in each game. Dale's season was further hindered when Wes Loughhead, one of the teams outstanding half-backs, moved to another school before the end of the season. Mr. Bardwell, Dale's new coach, helped to arouse competition between players by setting up a Mr. Defense contest for each game. The title, Mr. Defense, was determined by a point system for touchdowns, tackles, interceptions, and recoveries. Ron Estes, Russ Winkler, and Ken Ringeman achieved the Mr. Defense title for their crushing defensive plays with Estes holding the title more times than any of the other players. The football season ended with seniors, Ron Estes and Van Martin elected to the all PAC teams.

Grueling Practices Keep Aces Fit

Directed by Coach Bardwell, the Dale Aces began practice in August for the 1967 football season. Long, hard drills were the order of the day as the boys practiced with a determined and competitive spirit. Each practice session, with warm-up exercises and tough drills, lasted at least two hours. Stamina and endurance were the goals each player tried to achieve.

Congregating at the water fountain was the typical ending for each day's practice.

One of the Aces' many exhausting defensive drills was "hitting the sled."

With the change from eight to eleven man football in the Pocket Athletic Conference announced for the 1968 season, a new freshman program was started during the past fall to teach the underclassmen the fundamentals of eleven-man football. Coach Bardwell and assistant coach, Wahl, were in charge of the program. However, experienced senior, Bill Weber, took over most of the coaching duties after injuries prevented him from playing varsity football. More than twenty-five boys turned out for the practice sessions which included scrimmages with neighboring schools as well as several intrasquad games.

Late Season Surge Earns

Fighting to uphold Dale's basketball tradition, the '67-68 Aces went on a winning spree near the end of the season to finish with an even record of 10 wins and 10 losses. The spirited Aces overcame a streak of early season bad luck to down 5 of their last 7 regular season opponents including such highly touted teams as Tecumseh and Evansville Harrison. These victories more than avenged the heart-breaking losses that were suffered earlier in the year—such as the 1-point loss to Memorial, the 3-point decision at Petersburg, and the 4-point defeat at the hands of the Ferdinand Crusaders. In all, Dale lost 7 games by 7 points or less.

Scalp Braves, for Sectional Crown

Dale's Golden Aces, making their debut in the Boonville Sectional, emerged as Southern Indiana's Cinderella team by winning their first sectional crown in a decade. The underrated Aces started strong on opening night by downing the host Boonville Pioneers 68-50. Advancing to the semifinals, they squeaked by Winslow 60-58 on a last second shot by Ron Estes. This set the stage for the championship clash against the Tecumseh Braves. The Aces opened up an early lead but had to repel a second half surge by the Braves to take a 77-69 overtime win and the championship.

Valiant Aces Reach End of Dream

After winning a hard-fought Sectional, the Aces advanced to the opening round of the Evansville Regional. Overcoming a case of pre-game jitters, the Aces turned in one of their finest performances of the season as they downed the heavily-favored Mt. Vernon Wildcats 52-40. In the nightcap, the Aces jumped out to a 36-35 halftime lead but couldn't hold on as they were downed by the Reitz Panthers 65-53.

Led by Kiwanis award winner, David Kress, the Aces also finished fifth in the 10-team Conference meet and 13th in the Petersburg relays in which 18 teams participated. During the course of the year, a total of six school records were broken with Wayne Stroud accounting for two and Dave Kress, Rick Graman, and Ron Estes each getting one apiece. # Diamond Aces Rack Up Winning Season

Even though hampered by a 3 game losing streak early in the season, the Aces rallied with 7 straight victories to finish with an 8-5 record. Included in the 8 victories were wins over 4 of the 5 conference teams that the Aces faced with 2 victories over both Cannelton and Tecumseh. During the course of the season, Dale relied heavily on timely hitting and a well balanced pitching staff. Leading the hurlers were Bill Weber with 3 wins and 1 loss, followed by Larry Wetzel at 3 and 2, and Wayne Stroud at 2 and 2. Each of these boys completed their first year on the mound. Dale entered the Boonville Sectional with an 8-4 record, having won 7 of their last 8 games. Drawing a bye in the first round, the Aces were downed by Castle in the semi-finals by a score of 6 to 5.

Organizations

Activities give every student a chance to participate in some form of school life. Students welcome the break in routine. Organizations promote a feeling of competition, togetherness, spirit, and an overall sense of belonging. A sense of responsibility is created when a student joins a club and finds that he must fulfill his duties if the club is to be a success. Through activities, students are provided with entertainment while building strong minds and mature personalities.

at Football Games, Pep Sessions

The DHS band, under the direction of Mrs. JoAn Caswell, consists of 67 members. Since band is a solid, the students learn not only to read and play music well, but they participate in many extracurricular activities where they learn precision and sportsmanship as well as providing entertainment. This year, as part of their assignment, the seniors had to teach and direct the band in a song of their choice. They selected to do songs written by Herb Alpert and made popular by the Tijuana Brass. This active band performed at football games, pep sessions, and Commencement. They participated in both the Christmas and Spring concerts. Many of the students attended solo and ensemble contest where they acquired medals. Furthermore, this year the band attended marching contest for the first time in ten years. Another special event was playing for New York Senator Robert Kennedy who made a campaign stop in Dale.

Musicians Furnish Harmony

The music and band awards were presented to Cheryl Miller and Jacqui Harding, respectively, by their band director, Mrs. Caswell.

Dance Band Entertains

The dance band, active for the second year, purchased several new numbers to practice for future use. Next year, after the band has had more practice and experience, it plans to accept jobs playing for other proms. To complete their yearly performances, the dance band played "Autumn Leaves" and "Basin Street Blues" at the annual spring concert.

The dance band has 17 members. They are Jacqui Harding, Cheryl Miller, Winnie Dougan, Vicki Ellis, Carol Heady, Vicki Witte, David Wahl, Jim Lynn, Larry Wetzel, Danny

Choir Masters Musical Expression

This year the choir, under the direction of Mr. Samuel Wilkerson, again sang at the Teacher's Institute at Evansville. Some of the other events that the choir participated in were the annual Christmas and Spring concerts. The officers elected to head the choir this year were Gerald Rexing, president; Dan Brumett, vice-president; and Gloria Nord, secretary.

The Swing Choir, also under the direction of Mr. Samuel Wilkerson, again participated in the vocal music contest at Evansville. They gave a second public performance at the annual Spring concert.

Halftime Performances, Enthusiastic Cheerblock Add to Aces Go-Power

Drum major and majorettes chosen to march with the band were Vicki Witte, Debbie Russell, Mary Walters, Jacqui

Harding, Shirley Eble, Mary Held, Becky Collignon, and Sam Banton.

Drill team members Carol Cassidy, Charlene Birchler, Debbie Michel, Mary Grundhoefer, Linda Ofer, and Ruth Woebken-

berg proudly display their new pennants. At sports events, the drill team members presented precision drills.

The DHS Pep band entertained basketball fans at the home games and provided spirit at pep rallies.

Officers who were chosen to head the cheerblock this year were Van Martin, president; Paul Dauby, vice-president; Russell Winkler, treasurer; and Mrs. Winkler, sponsor. This year, for the first time, a color guard presented the school's colors and played the national anthem at each of the home games.

This year's FHA was involved in various activities. In early October the FHA Chapter was the host school for the Fall district meeting. For Christmas the FHA sent boxes of cookies packed in popcorn to the soldiers in Vietnam. The following January they traveled to Cannelton to officially charter the Cannelton FHA Chapter. In March the members of the FFA were guests of honor at the FHA's annual square dance. In harmony with the beautification of America program, the FHA planted a rosebush in front of the high school. The officers for the 1968-69 year were installed at the annual mother-daughter tea held in April. It was one of the active years for the Dale FHA.

Juniors package cookies, kool-aid, and other treats to send to the men in service in Vietnam for Christmas.

Newly installed officers and outgoing officers all beam proudly at the close of the installation service.

Refreshments made by the FHA members were enjoyed by everyone at the Mother-Daughter Tea.

FHA Completes Rewarding Year of Service

The emblem service was performed by the FHA freshmen at the Mother-Daughter Tea.

FHA members and officers were both honored and pleased to be asked to initiate Cannelton Chapter.

Eighty-six members comprise the FHA Chapter sponsored by Mrs. Diana Wright. The officers are Mary Held, president; Linda Ofer, vice-president; Cheryl Miller, secretary; Shirley Eble, treasurer; Diane Hagedorn, historian; Cynthia Martin, parliamentarian; Linda Miller, projects chairman; Peggy Minor, song leader; and Debra Schriefer, reporter.

FFA Works to Curb Pests, Accidents on the Farm

During the school year, the FFA sponsored several worthwhile projects which demonstrated that they have the potential to become good farmers. Elimination of such farm pests as sparrows, mice, crows, skunks, and groundhogs, was the goal of the pest contest. Charles Vaal placed first in this contest and received a $10 gift certificate from the FFA catalogue. The losing team furnished the drinks for the FFA-FFA square dance. Since a new law was passed that all slow moving vehicles must carry an SMV sign, the FFA capitalized on this situation and sold these signs to area farmers. A contest was also drawn around this project to help promote interest and salesmanship. Kenny Hildenbrand was the winner in this competition and he also received a $10 gift certificate from the FFA catalogue. Keeping with tradition, the FFA once again treated the FFA to a hayride and weiner roast at the Dale Lake.

Paul Dauby and Kenny Hildenbrand give extra service as they make sure the SMV sign is attached securely,

Officers of this active FFA club, sponsored by Mr. Rosbottom, are Paul Dauby, president; Leroy Oeding, vice-president; David Kress, secretary; Bob Stephens, treasurer; Jim Hayden, sentinel; Dave Gogel, advisor; and Kenny Hildenbrand, reporter.

Student Council Valuable Go-Between

DHS students talk and enjoy the refreshments at a Student Council sponsored sock hop.

The Student Council acts as an intermediary between the student body and the faculty. Many of the problems of the students are brought before the administration through the efforts of the Student Council. An active and efficient organization, the Student Council has sponsored among other things a sock hop for the students of DHS. They have also sold telephone directories with the telephone numbers of both the students and the administration to earn money for their various projects throughout the year.

Mr. Menke is amused as Don Lambeck feigns pain while Gerald Rexing stamps him.

Members of the Student Council: Mr. Melvin Menke, sponsor; Mary Held, president; Gloria Nord, secretary; Gerald Rexing, treasurer; Jane Rickelman, reporter. Other members include Eileen Rickelman, Linda Ofer, Larry Smith, Don Kress, Rick Rosbottom, Rick Graman, Becky Ringeman, and Patty Niehaus.

Club Members Staff Library

The library club at DHS is very active and helpful. Their busy year included hosting the district meeting of the Dixie Bibliophiles, having a Christmas party preceded by bowling, and traveling to Terre Haute to attend a state meeting. One of the club's most worthwhile projects was explaining the rules governing the library to high school English students.

Student librarian Margaret Schum assists Kathy Zoglman as she checks out a book.

State officer, Barbara Ludwig, addresses envelopes as Mrs. Winkler looks on.

Thirteen members constitute the Library Club sponsored by Mrs. Victoria Winkler. The officers are Donna Winkler, president; Cheryl Miller, vice-president; Mary Michel, secretary;

Rosella Wilczynski, treasurer; and Barbara Ludwig, State Membership Chairman.

NHS Gets New Charter

The NHS really got underway this year. The six original members started the year by writing a new constitution enabling sophomores to become provisional members. Four were named. The original members include W. Stroud, L. Wetzel, C. Miller, C. Gaesser, R. Estes, and G. Rexing. The new members are K. Graman, D. Jochim, S. Eble, R. Vaal, J. Harding, G. Painter, D. Lambeck, G. Emmons, P. Bertke, J. Brown, V. Herr, and D. Michel. A special activity of the original members was giving each teacher an apple during National Education Week.

Mrs. Joan Caswell explains to members of the NHS, whose lives of great men will be featured in their induction speeches.

Wayne Stroud, president; Larry Wetzel, vice-president; and Cheryl Miller, secretary and treasurer are shown with other members, new inductees and provisional NHS members.

Cheryl Miller pins Jacqui Harding with the NHS symbol during induction ceremonies.

New National Honor Society members are congratulated by their parents following induction ceremonies.

'68 Memories, Largest Ever

Busy working on copy for the yearbook are Ruth Hanning, Mary Michel, Jenny Brown, Becky Collignon, Cheryl Miller, Donna Jochim, and Kitty Brown. Linda Snyder, who was absent when pictures were taken, also helped.

Writing about the various sports activities are Russell Winkler and Ron Estes. Russell Winkler also took photographs for the yearbook.

Putting a yearbook together requires much effort from the staff members. From the time the first ad was sold until the last copy was typed, hard work and cooperation were given by the staff members. The sponsors, Mrs. Betty Ingram and Mrs. Sharon Wertman, would like to thank all staff members who helped with the 1968 Memories.

Mrs. Wertman, co-sponsor of the yearbook staff, gives special recognition and awards to the co-editors, Donna Jochim and Cheryl Miller, for the time and work they put into making a success of the yearbook.

Staff members would like to thank Shirley Eble and Virginia Begle for their excellent typing of copy.

Yearbook photographers are Sam Banton and Tom Nord.

Diana Hohl, Barbara Balbach, Lois Vogel, Lou Ann Vaal, Virginia Begle, and Mary Tempel are busy working on layouts for the 1968 Memories.

Those who sold subscriptions for the "68" yearbook are Mary Seger, Doris Gogel, Mary Werne, Vicki Dilger, Evelyn Schulthies, Ruth Vaal, Judy Zoglman, Donna Schum, Jack Kellams, Mary Kleeman, Carlotta Mueller, and Jacqui Harding.

Mr. Murphy, the "fearless leader" of the French Club, as his students admiringly call him, poses with his French "amies." The officers of this newly organized club are Jacqui Harding, president; Donna Jochim, vice-president; Cheryl Miller, secretary; and Becky Collignon, treasurer.

Les étudiants organisé un Cercle de Français Students Organize French Club

Fashions and landmarks such as these were the themes used by the French Club in their displays.

The newly organized French Club, under the guidance of Mr. Kenneth Murphy, was quite active in its first year's activities. During each meeting, a program was given. The programs consisted of a play given in French, a display of several landmarks and early French fashions, and a display of the winter Olympics held in Grenoble, France. With the dues collected, the club had a Christmas Party. Discussions and inquiries have been made concerning a constitution which will be adopted next year.

Brenda Nielsen, recipient of the French Award, looks alarmed as Mr. Murphy asks for an acceptance speech in French.

Personalities

Personalities comprise a world; personalities comprise a school. Each individual contributes his share just by being himself. The school would not be complete without the different personalities of the faculty members, the students, and the administration. Each student has his own goals and ideals. A major goal of each student of Dale High is to get a good education. The faculty and administration also have goals and ideals. Yet all these personalities are striving for one thing: they are building for the future.

Administration Advocates Progress

The members of the North Spencer County Board of School Trustees are Narl Conner, president; Charles Walker, vice-president; Thomas Brumett, superintendent; Othmar Ringeman, Hilbert Braun, secretary; Leroy Schroeder, Rueben Schriefer, treasurer; and Robert Tullis.

Guidance, discipline, and instruction are given to the students through the capable and willing hands of the administration and faculty. The students at DHS have been taught through examples of leadership and friendship by the administration and faculty in all phases of school activity, both social and academic. The administration hires the teachers, decides their pay, and plans a curriculum to insure a better education for the students at DHS. During the past year the North Spencer County Board of School Trustees has selected a building site for a new consolidated school corporation. Hearings are now being held to check the architect's preliminary drawings, cost estimations, and the feelings of the people. Before the final drawings can be formed, the teachers will be asked to give recommendations concerning their various teaching areas. The present administration has accomplished much in its short term. We wish to thank them for all they have done.

Responsibility and principal are two words that go well together. Mr. Bill Tislow, principal at DHS, is a dedicated and industrious worker. At various times he is serious, joking, excited, sympathetic, but always interested and concerned about the students. He gives unselfishly of himself—advice, understanding, guidance, reason, and friendship—to us. For this, we thank him.

Striding through the halls, Mr. Bill Tislow, principal, happily greets the beginning of a new school day.

Teacher's Goal - To Give Students Sound Basis for Future

Mr. Dressel Rosbottom attended Purdue and Indiana University. Classes taught by Mr. Rosbottom include vocational agriculture, chemistry, and shop. His many activities range from senior class sponsor and FHA sponsor to timekeeper at the home basketball games.

A graduate from the University of Evansville, Mr. Jim Wahl has a B.A. and M.A. degree. Mr. Wahl takes great delight in educating students in applied math, general math, and geometry. He is the track coach and assistant football coach. His many activities include working with the Little League.

Aside from teaching biology and science, Mr. Terry Tichenor, an animal lover, is an active participant in farming, fishing, and hunting. A new member on the DHS faculty, he has acquired the position of junior class sponsor.

The Student Council is one of the main extracurricular activities that Mr. Melvin Menke supervises at DHS. He is also sophomore class sponsor and scorekeeper at the basketball games. He has attended Oakland City College and Western Michigan University. He teaches algebra I, algebra II, senior math, and physics.

Dale Faculty Busy in Extra-Curricular

A new member of the DHS faculty staff is Mr. Pat Arnold. He teaches advanced business, bookkeeping, geography, law and sales, and typing. Mr. Arnold has a B.S. degree from Oakland City College. He is the assistant varsity basketball coach, freshman basketball coach, and baseball coach. His hobbies include watching TV and all sports and outside recreation.

Mr. Jim Cawood, athletic director and varsity basketball coach, has attended Indiana State University and Greenville College where he has received his M.A. and B.S. degrees respectively. He has taught physical education, health, general business, and drivers education for four years at Dale. One of his many pastimes consists of traveling.

Secretarial, shorthand, and typing are the classes that Mrs. Betty Ingram teaches at Dale High School. She is the co-advisor of the yearbook and sophomore class sponsor. Along with sewing, she enjoys working with flowers. In her senior year at the University of Evansville, she was named one of the outstanding senior girls.

Activities, Individual Hobbies

Mrs. Diana Wright, the home economics teacher at DHS for two years, has a B.S. degree from Indiana University, and an M.S. degree from Indiana State University. She is the junior class sponsor and the FHA sponsor. Mrs. Wright enjoys sewing and swimming in her leisure time.

An Indiana State University graduate, Mr. Samuel Wilkinson directs the choir and intermediate band. A new music teacher at Dale, he has a B.S. and an M.S. degree. Mr. Wilkinson greatly enjoys golf and baseball in his free time.

Recipient of the Silver Music Award and a Cum Laude graduate, Mrs. JoAn Caswell is sponsor of the National Honor Society. Mrs. Caswell teaches beginner, junior high, and high school band. She also teaches driver's education, physical education, and health and safety. Very active and athletic, Mrs. Caswell's favorite pastimes include swimming and tennis.

Teacher's Work to Assure Student's

Mrs. Victoria Winkler, having received a B.A. degree from Indiana University and Murray State University started her teaching career at DHS this year. Mrs. Winkler is librarian and also teaches English. She is sponsor of the library club, the cheerleaders, and the cheerblock.

Seeing places of interest in Indiana and other States is one of Mrs. Sharon Wertman's favorite pastimes. As an avid sports fan, Mrs. Wertman's fancy is watching softball, baseball, and basketball. She also enjoys taking part in swimming and bike riding. A graduate from Oakland City College with a B.S. degree, Mrs. Wertman teaches English 11, speech, and drama. She is in charge of queen crownings and is an advisor of the yearbook. She has taught two years at Dale High School.

A Western Kentucky University graduate, Mr. Kenneth Murphy teaches English 10 and 12 and French 1 and 2. He is in charge of selling concessions and is advisor of the school variety show. His summers are spent studying, fishing, and gardening. One of his main ambitions is to acquire a grant and spend some time studying in France. This summer he plans to attend Evansville University to complete the needed work for his Master's degree.

Holder of a B.S. degree, Mrs. Shannon McKinney is a graduate of Oakland City College. A new member to the DHS faculty, Mrs. McKinney teaches English 9 and geography. She is in charge of basketball and football queen crownings. She enjoys helping and being with children.

Success Socially, Academically

A teacher for sixteen years, Mr. Lawrence Prusz has attended Evansville University and Indiana University where he received his B.A. and M.S. degree in secondary education. He teaches world history, sociology, geography, and team teaches U.S. history with Mr. Bardwell. He is in charge of audio-visual equipment and ordering films. He enjoys playing softball, golfing, and teaching driver's education in the summer.

Golfing, hunting, and fishing are some of the activities that Mr. James Bardwell delights in doing. Mr. Bardwell has attended Oakland City College, Indiana State, and Henderson State, in Arcadelphia, Arkansas. He team teaches U.S. history and government, and also teaches American problems and civics. Mr. Bardwell is the football coach at DHS.

Mr. Charles Bockstahler, a teacher for forty-four years, serves as assistant principal and guidance director. He has a B.S. and M.S. degree. This year he participates in team teaching the American government and economics class. He supervises ticket sales for athletic events. One of his most enjoyable pastimes is traveling, having visited the Western and Eastern sections of the United States and Canada. Of his stay in Alaska, Mr. Bockstahler says, "Nothing tastes better than freshly caught fish."

The meals served at Dale High School are prepared by these culinary experts, Mrs. Vernita Thorpe, Mrs. Irene Medcalf, Mrs. Dorothy Springston, and Mrs. Hazel Lamar (Not pictured).

Placing new books on the stacks is one of the many duties of our teacher's aide, Iris Ludwig.

The essential personnel at Dale High keeps things moving smoothly. Bus drivers take the students to and from school. The cooks prepare delicious and wholesome meals. Students are given regular eye, ear, and TB tests by the school nurse. The teacher's aide assists teachers and helps to keep the library in order. Office duties are efficiently done by the secretary. The janitors keep the school clean and in good repair. Without the essential service personnel, Dale High School could never be the well-kept and happy school it now is.

Keeping the school clean, warm, and in good repair is the responsibility of janitor, Bill Painter.

Seniors Enjoy Coney Island

Seniors on the class trip were able to view the beautiful grounds of Coney Island while riding in the sky-lift ninety-six feet above the ground.

Linda Hemmer, Cheryl Miller, and Donna Jochim ride the carousel, one of the many rides at Coney Island.

The seniors keeping with tradition, once again went to Coney Island on their class trip. At 5:00 A.M. on Saturday, May 18, the seniors and their sponsors, Mrs. Winkler and Mr. Rosbottom, boarded the bus being driven by Bill Painter. After breakfast at Shoals it was on to Cincinnati and Coney Island. After an afternoon filled with fun and rides, students and sponsors once again boarded the bus and headed for home.

Donna Jochim and Mary Michel apprehensively eye the ride they are about to take.

"Oh! Gerald, but it keeps your hair from getting wet," Dan Brumett exclaims to Gerald Rexing.

Freshmen Order Jackets, Sweaters

Freshmen choose emblems for their sweaters and jackets in the spring to insure an early delivery date.

Freshmen Cindy Fischer, Norberta Greubel, Lynn Bockstahler, and Cindy Becher prove they can study.

Advertisements

Early in September, the advertising staff began soliciting ads for the Annual. After school hours and on Saturday Juniors and Seniors could be seen going from one business establishment to another in hopes of getting a new account for this year.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the businessmen whose ads and contributions have helped to make possible the 1968 edition of "MEMORIES."

Closing

Although at times we would get disgusted and tired, we, the annual staff are proud to have put forth our effort to help remember our school days forever. We want to thank Mrs. Wertman and Mrs. Ingram for all the help they have given us. We also wish to thank those who have helped in any other way. During the past year we have witnessed many events. We have seen a new eleven man freshman football team spring into action, our first sectional crown won in ten years, and a greatly expanded curriculum at our school. We have witnessed the forming of many new friendships with our fellow classmates, teachers, and others we have come in contact with over the past year. Yes, we can truly say that this has been one of the best years ever at DHS—one that we will always remember with our "Memories."
